Chas. E. Morris Gets Breeding Smithers Farm

Charles E. Morris of Smithers is establishing the foundation for the raising of high class commercial cattle through the recent importation of 25 head of typey grade Hereford heifers from Alberta. These heifers were selected by Weller & Williams, livestock commission agents, Edmonton, and are shipped in under the Dominion Government Free Freight Policy. The shipping firm in commenting on this load state that the heifers are exceptional quality, type and uniformity.

This shipment of breeding heifers is the first introduction of new blood in to the Smithers district for several years, and will be a great asset in establishing the area as a district where good beef stock is produced.

The Smithers district and the Bulkley Valley is well suited to ranching on a limited scale. Vast areas of excellent summer grazing are available. Farmers in the Central Interior of B. C. along the line of the Canadian National Railways have made great stride in improving the quality of their live stock during the past fourteen months. A total of approximately 500 head, of breeding heifers has been distributed between McBride and Smithers and 32 head of purebred bulls have been placed with farmers in this area under the Dominion Government Bull Loaning Policy and several good bulls have been purchased by settlers.

Central British Columbia has proven its ability to produce lumber and minerals in abundance during the past years. It is now demonstrating its adaptability to mixed farming and the raising of high quality commercial livestock.

ALL HAIL! ALL HAIL!

It is reported in the Prince Rupert News in black face type, a big double heading and on the front page—One car load of wheat of the 1932 crop has arrived at the Prince Rupert elevator. The same article also reports that another seven cars are supposed to be somewhere on the line between Edmonton and Prince Rupert.

With this great rush of grain from the prairies to Prince Rupert elevator the Canadian National should send out warnings to several train crews to hold themselves in readiness for an emergency call to duty.

That carload of coal will serve to prove to the Prince Rupert News that the Canadian National Railway is co-operating wholeheartedly with Prince Rupert, with the great idea of building up Prince Rupert as a great sea port. Such small matters as giving a rate on automobiles from the coast to the interior will now be laid on the shelf. A whole carload of wheat has been delivered at Prince Rupert.

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICES

The United Church in Hazelton was filled to capacity on Armistice Day morning, the occasion of the annual services. This year by order in council the day was proclaimed a national holiday and the name of Armistice Day changed to Remembrance Day. The service was conducted by Rev. S. V. H. Redman, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. P. L. Baumbister of St. Peter's Anglican Church and Captain Mundum of the Salvation Army. Dr. H. C. Wreth gave a thoughtful address in which he reviewed the sacrifices made during the Great War, not only by those who fell but on the part of those who remained at home. Two minutes of silence was observed, at 11 a.m. which was closed by the sounding of the Last Post by Capt. Mundum.

A CAR CAME TO GRIEF

Travelling With Load of Young People From Smithers Dance Car Went Over Bank at Moricetown

A party of four or five young people of New Hazelton and Hazelton attended the Legion dance in Smithers on Thursday night. The weather was bad and the roads were none too good. There was considerable snow in places. After the dance the party started out for home. Everything apparently was going alright apparently until they got to a turn this side of Moricetown and before you reach Milk Creek bridge. This turn is a fair sharp with a drop on the left side of some twenty or thirty feet. The car took the drop and there was a spill. The car was damaged considerably, but fortunately the young people got off without any serious injury, so far has been reported, although they were shaken up considerably. They have decided that it is as well to take lots of time when there is ice or snow on the road. Marshall Bros. and York were phoned for from Moricetown and they went out and helped the party out of their difficulties and brought the injured car in to town.

GRAND JURIES ARE OUT

Quite a Saving Effected to the Province—Also Speeds up Assizes

Material savings in assize trial costs will accrue to British Columbia as one result of the abolition of Grand Juries. Grand Juries were removed by legislation at last session and ceased to function after the spring assizes throughout the province.

Comparing the spring assizes with Grand Jury at Vancouver and the fall assizes without Grand Juries, the following results have been compiled by the Attorney-General's department:—

Spring assizes, 20 cases, 33 trials including re-trials; disbursements for witness fees, etc., $4,080, or $127.60 per trial, as the average.

Fall assizes, seventeen trials, disbursements $902, or an average of $58.35 per trial.

This saving will be typical of other reductions effected all over the province; full details of which are not yet to hand. In addition to the saving on witness fees, etc., lessened costs for the provincial police who handled the hearings are also reported; while a general speeding up of assizes is noted.

KISPIX INDIAN FOUND DEAD

In the Bush Near His Trap Line Last Saturday—Death Due to Natural Causes—Funeral Monday

Walter Green, a well known Indian of the Kispix Reserve, was found on his trap line dead last Saturday morning. It was known that he had gone out to look over his trap lines and as he did not return when he should have the natives sent out a search party. He was found lying near his trap line some five or six miles from Kispix. The police were notified and both the Provincial and the Mounted Police went out to investigate. The man was found lying in a natural position and wrapped up in his blanket. Death was found to be due to natural causes. There were no indications of foul play. The funeral was held on Monday from the Kispix Indian Church and services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Redman.

Canada's output of canned sardines in 1931 was 202,520 with a marketed value of more than $10,000. All of the Canadian production of these canned fish is packed in Southwestern New Brunswick.

NO MORE RED FIFE WHEAT

Marquis Almost Universally Raised In Canadian West—Is Earlier Maturing Wheat

Prior to, and in the year 1910, the wheat crop of the prairie provinces was made up principally of the variety Red Fife. Red Fife was pre-dominant in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, there being only occasional farmers in those provinces who had the new variety Marquis, although Marquis had come to be the principal variety grown in several areas of Southern Alberta.

The year 1916 is memorable for the destruction by rust of the late maturing Red Fife wheat to a point where it was found impracticable to assemble seed supplies of that variety. There were a few farmers in Manitoba who had Marquis wheat but that large growing area of Manitoba and Saskatchewan found itself without wheat suitable for seedling. At this time we were approaching the most critical period of the war when there was the greatest need of wheat production.

In the fall of 1916 the staff of the Dominion Seed Branch was organized into a seed purchasing commission and succeeded in assembling in the Canadian Government interior elevators at Moose Jaw, Calgary and Saskatoon sufficient seed of Marquis wheat from the new and clean lands of Southern Alberta to meet the full requirements for seed supply.

The 1916 wheat crop in Manitoba and Southern Saskatchewan was estimated to be 85 per cent or more Red Fife. The 1917 wheat crop in these areas was practically all of the Marquis wheat. In that year we saw the passing of the famous variety of wheat on which Canadian wheat grades were originally founded.

PREMIER'S OATS CAME HIGH

It is evident that Premier Toimie has recently paid a visit to his farm in Sarnich and enquired of the manager: "Where in — the dividends have all gone." The Premier says it seems that something is wrong some place. The farmers on the prairie get $6 or $8 a ton for oats, but when those oats get to his farm at Sarnich they cost him $32 a ton. Perhaps the Premier will do something about it. The farmers and all other producers are getting handed to them in the same manner and have been getting it for years. In case in point, if the Premier wants another is—To get a carload of coal from the Alberta Coal Spur into New Hazelton one has to first pay for three cars of coal. It costs two car loads to bring one car load over the railway. Yet that same one car load will be taken to Prince Rupert for about half a carload less than to New Hazelton, yet the distance to the coast is 181 miles farther. Is it necessary to ask why the railways are idle and losing money faster than the Dominion Government can collect it from the tax-payer?

Close to 35,000 pounds of herring scales, for use in manufacturing artificial pearls, were marketed by New Brunswick fishermen last year and brought a return of $1,500.

Many of the West Indies islands are visited almost nightly by a cool breeze known as the "doctor". It used to be of some advantage to sailing ships, but is now chiefly beneficial to people.

During the year ending August last 5,083,975 individual coconuts arrived in Canada from British West Indies. There is no record of how many other nuts were admitted.

There are ten bananas or "fingers" to a "hand" of bananas and ten hands to a "stalk". What interests the small boy is how to get a finger.

GOOD CITIZENS LEAVING

Mrs. Jas. Richmond and Family Going to Vancouver to Reside—Here Over Ten Years

The end of this month Mrs. James Richmond, Mrs. Ardagh and daughter will leave Terrace for Vancouver to take up their residence with Mrs. Richmond's brother, Mr. Donald McLeod, who is also well known all along the line of the Canadian National from Prince Rupert to Edmonton.

The loss of these people will be felt very greatly in Terrace. Mrs. Richmond took up residence in Terrace a half a generation ago with her husband the late James Richmond who purchased the Co-Operative business that was then being carried on across the railway tracks. Mr. Richmond got a lease on one of J. K. Gordon's buildings in the centre of town and moved the Co-Op. general store stock up to the new premises. He soon disposed of the dry goods end of the business and confined himself to groceries and the butcher business. Since his death the estate has disposed of the grocery end and has carried on only the butcher business.

Mrs. Richmond and her daughter, Mrs. Ardagh, have been valued members of the community, and they were numbered among the best citizens. It is regrettable that they have decided to move to Vancouver.

Before coming to Terrace Mrs. Richmond and family resided for years at New Hazelton where Mr. Richmond did a thriving business during the construction days and until after mining failed to support the population. The family still has many warm friends in New Hazelton who will join with the people of Terrace in regretting the removal of Mrs. Richmond from the north, and at the same time extend the best of wishes for future health and happiness.

Canadians are patient and long suffering. They have drunk horrible stuff at tremendous prices for a long time because some one told them if helped the government pay the war war debt. But the war debt has not been paid and soon it will be possible to smuggle liquor from the U. S., unless the governments prepare to play square with the Canadians.

The Felix Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. Anderson on Tuesday night of this week and the prize was won by Mrs. Jas. Turnbull. Next week the club will meet at Miss Craig's, the nurses residence. Last week Mrs. Gow won the prize at Mrs. Chappell's.

All the governments in the British Empire are now passing, or have passed the agreements adopted at the Ottawa conference and those agreements are now in effect, much to the benefit of countries composing the Empire.

Between typhoons, tornadoes, floods tidal waves, etc., that are visiting so many other parts of the world, the people of Canada have every reason to be thankful for the country they live in. Even in the States immediately to the south of us there are floods and destruction.

Twenty car loads of beef are said to have gone through a bridge near Kamloops the other day. The bridge had already been weakened by flood waters.

Seed and Bulb Show Victoria January 18-21

The British Columbia Seed and Bulb Fair which is being held in Victoria January 18th to 21st, 1933, promises to be an event of considerable interest and well worth visiting. The fair in recent years has been held in conjunction with the B. C. Winter Fair, but as this latter exhibition is not taking place this year it has been found necessary to hold the seed fair by itself. The fair will be held under the direction of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. This latter body is providing the building and making certain other arrangements in connection with the program, while the Department of Agriculture will actually take charge of the competitive and non-competitive exhibits, and make the necessary arrangements for the proper handling of and care of same. Entries close January 10, 1933. Exhibits should arrive between January 12th and 14th, and not later than noon, January 16th. Exhibits may be sent to the fair express or freight collect.

REMEMBRANCE DAY AT SMITHERS

The Canadian Legion at Smithers, in association with the church and the public of the town and district observed Armistice Day in a splendid manner. On Sunday, a week ago, there was a church service; on Thursday night there was a dance which drew people from all parts of the district; on Friday the Legion parade to the cemetery and paid homage to the comrades who have passed away since the return from great war; Friday evening there was a cribbage contest and a program of songs, etc. The citizens joined in a whole hearted manner with the Legion and observed the occasion in a most fitting manner.

The B. C. Liquor Control Board is beginning to fear a flood of poisonous American boot-leg whiskey as soon as that country can get in a supply of the real stuff. To avoid that the Board is thinking it might be well to reduce the prices of liquor in B. C. It would be too bad if our American neighbors should force the B. C. Liquor Board to take any such action.

Mr. Farmer

here's why you should read your newspaper.

In the first place of all, Mr. Farmer, you are interested in this district because it is the logical market for the greater part of your produce you have to sell. New Hazelton and district people are the consumers of what you have to sell, and you, being the producer of what they must buy, are a person of mighty importance to them. You have a common bond.

Anything, then, that affects the local towns or its people affects you by affecting your market. Anything that affects the farmers of this interior country has a vital bearing on the business life and general status of New Hazelton and district. We are, after all, one in point of view, economically.

In presenting the news and other items of interest each week The Omineca Herald is guided by this thought. Items of interest regarding any phase of farm work or life are published, together with the news of the whole district, so far as it can be got. Besides the buying opportunities listed by the stores there is a classified column which should be of special interest to farmers. Make use of it.

You are also kept continually in touch with what is occurring in New Hazelton and the interior, socially, industrially and in the mining circles which The Omineca Herald presents each week.

Mr. Farmer, you should be a careful reader of The Omineca Herald every week. Are you? The cost is but 4 cents a week. If you are not already a subscriber, clip the special offer coupon below and mail or bring it into The Omineca Herald office with 50c, which will give you the Omineca Herald for 3 months. DO IT NOW.

UNTANGLE THE TAXATION WEB

A number of years ago a beneficent government became embued with the idea that they were the all-powerful and the know-all; that the municipal councils, which were composed of only ordinary, everyday men, were incapable of extracting the maximum of money from the tax-payers; also, that they were incapable of spending that money after it had been extracted. It was a theory; an ideal, the government at that time had. Some say it was a bad dream.

The government of the province at that time took upon itself the authority to collect the great bulk of the taxes throughout the province, with a promise to reimburse the municipalities with liberal grants. All went merry for a time. Millions were collected; millions were borrowed and many millions were spent. The municipalities were getting more money than they ever had before and it came so easy that there was simply nothing to it but to spend. Thus the municipalities contracted extravagant habits as well as the government. Many millions were borrowed in excess of ability to pay. The province tapped more and more sources of revenue and returned more and more to the municipalities.

In the meantime the government developed a wonderful and luxurious staff at Victoria and in every nook and corner in the province to collect those moneys, to check and double check the officials (had to keep the boys honest) until the province shortly became the largest employer of labor in the province. The civil service became top heavy and caused the collapse of the government that built it.

At the same time the municipalities with comparatively little collecting to do, retained the same staffs to do the spending that formerly did both collecting and spending.

The time came when the government and the municipality had all the available money—that was some years ago, yet the same staffs were retained and no effort made to retrench. All departments were short on revenue, but long on expenditure.

A new government was elected. It tried to carry on. Great troubles developed. The government found itself in the same position as the old woman who lived in a shoe. To use another old saying—British Columbia had put all its eggs in one basket.

Chaos developed. The government finally realized that things were not right, and were not getting any better. Of late strenuous efforts have been put forth to stem the outward flow of the money that was not on hand and did not look as if it would ever be on hand. Big reductions in every department were made, but that was not good enough. The province had been committed to more millions than it could raise.

The latest move is to get the government and the municipalities together in an effort to untangle the taxation web that has been woven so intricately in the last dozen and a half years. It is the intention, we believe, of the government to give back to the municipalities the privilege of collecting its own revenues as far as possible. The municipalities can do better anyway and the government does not want to continue the mess any longer.

The next step should naturally be for the government to undo all that was done on the advice of the expert business men of Vancouver—get out of commercial enterprises. Many, many millions of the people's dollars have been sunk in such enterprises as the white elephant railway, the Sumas, and other dyking and drainage propositions to benefit Vancouver expert business men; loans to manufacturers without proper investigation; loans to all and sundry who could get next to the Vancouver business experts.

The government of a few years ago was so intoxicated with the idea of getting into business that some Vancouver experts were engaged to reorganize and remodel the government printing plant. That was done, and it was done so efficiently that a huge sum disappeared in new machinery of all kinds and a new building. The Victoria printing plant would be a credit to the King's Printer at Ottawa. That meant that more and more business had to be done by the Victoria printing plant or the efficiency experts would get after them. To do this the business of the weekly newspapers and printing plants was hampered and cut short of work to a serious extent.

In nearly every line of business the provincial government has been encroaching until today it is hardly safe to invest in a business in this province.

We strongly urge the present government to get out of private business and give the tax payers a chance to meet their obligations and to pay their taxes. The government has all the business it can attend to if it just stay with governing.

No one knows better than Premier Tolmie that you cannot cut the feed off and expect a cow to give a full flow of 4% milk. Neither can the tax-payers make money with the government taking the best of the business.

The annual cut of Christmas trees for the United States market has commenced in New Brunswick. Several carloads are expected out of Alberta county this season. Most of the trees cut average from three to five feet in length, with some from twelve to fifteen feet for public demonstrations. A feature of the cut last year was "table" trees and a good many of these will be cut again this year.

Victoria reports that next year the provincial budget is really going to balance. Nothing added to nothing leaves nothing. Nothing multiplied by nothing is also nothing. Nothing subtracted from nothing also leaves nothing.

Even Conservatives in Canada are rejoicing in the victory of the Democrats. They are looking for a downward revision of the tariffs and thus resume trading with Canada. The loss of the United States trade was as serious to Canada as the recent loss of Canadian trade was to the United States. But then the States started all the trouble and Canada will survive as soon as the new trade routes with the British Empire get well established.

The big question in the United States now is when and where can we get beer. Of course beer means an occasional drink of good liquor. With the United States able to import their own liquor direct from the manufacturer's the Canadian exporters and the Canadian governments, especially the B. C. government will have to cut their exorbitant prices and serve better liquor and better beer or the "rum running" business will soon be switched and the boats will be running the opposite direction.

It was a large and sympathetic gathering which met in the G. W. V. A. hall on Friday morning (Remembrance Day) to pay tribute to the departed soldiers. Owing to the illness of Canon McKim, the services were conducted by Rev. H. T. Allen. He gave a splendid address in keeping with the occasion. Buglar S. N. Kirkaldy sounded "The Last Post" concluding the two minutes of silence. Miss Janet Young presided at the organ.

The Canadian Legion held a very successful dance on Friday evening in their hall and the affair was attended by a large number of out of town visitors as well as many from town.

Terrace got its first taste of winter on Saturday night. Late that evening it started to snow, and Sunday was blessed with a steady blow from the north, accompanied by snow, and the glass several degrees below freezing. The snow kept up all day, and most of the following night. On Monday morning a considerable amount of drift was coming down the Skeena.

There is talk in Victoria of re-opening the Ladysmith copper smelter to handle the ores from the coast and the northern interior. Shipments of copper to Great Britain are increasing at a rapid rate due to the preference.

Basketball Now Chief Attraction Games Started

Basketball started Saturday evening with three fast moving games being played before a fair audience. The junior game was first off—Jim Smith's team winning by slight margin over Harry Attree's aggregation. These boys try hard but find that rugby interferes a little with the recognized mode of playing basketball.

The girls' game was very creditable, two or three of the girls making their debut on the floor. The high school team found enough openings to trim the Wild Cats. Sophia MacLaren romped away with the scoring and her co-worker Lydia McGregor intercepted many dangerous passes. It was Lydia's first chance on the floor. The Wild Cats played nice combination but were unable to find the basket.

In the senior hoop event Fred Thomas and Lloyd Johnstone of the Town team took matters in their own hands and sank plenty of shots from all angles. Their guards snared all rebounds and furnished lots of opportunities for the forward line. Some of the high school boys resented this and wasted time in unnecessary chatter. However, after several penalties had been handed out, the second stanza found both teams playing an airtight game. The final score was, Town 22 and High School 6.

C. Michiel presided at the score book. Duncan Kerr as time keeper and H. Lyons handled the whistle. These games are scheduled every Saturday night at 7.30 and are deserving of public support, as they are the only effort at winter sports with the exception of bridge.

As a player of games Canada is only rivalled by Australia as the greatest in the world.

WITH THE TRAIL RIDERS

East is East and West is West, but men ride wherever the sun shines and the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, with a membership which girdles the globe, are creating widespread interest with their plans for their 1932 expedition from Banff to Mount Assiniboine, through some of the most beautiful country in the great mountains from which they take their name. The famous peak, with its many adjoining lakes and valleys, was the focal point of the 1927 trail ride and this year's trip, starting on July 29, will follow generally the same lines, with nights spent in camp, according to the best traditions of the Order. Ample time will be given for exploring the territory traversed, the ride occupying five days and traversing Brewster and Allenby Creeks; Assiniboine Pass and the shores of Lake Magog to the great mountain, which is the objective of the riders. Return will be made through the Valley of the Rocks; the Golden Valley; Citadel Pass and so through Sunshine Camp to Banff once more. The pictures shown above are distinctly interesting and show Lt. Col. Phil Moore, president of the Trail Riders, and Mrs. Moore, on camel-back at the Pyramids, during the world-cruise of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain", in strong contrast to the cowboy viewing Mount Assiniboine, where this year's trail ride leads. Inset is H. M. King Prajadhikok of Siam, who proved an enthusiastic trail rider during his visit to Canada last summer. Below, two fair bathers are seen setting out from one of the cabins at Assiniboine Camp.
